Trivia: "Dueling Banjos" hit #70 on the Billboard chart for 1973. (more)

Goofs: Audio/visual unsynchronized: During the "Dueling Banjos" scene, Drew and the banjo boy are just randomly plucking strings. Drew's fretboard fingers go up the frets toward the nut of the guitar (close to the tuning end and furthest from the plucking hand) during a high pitched note in the actual song; the action would have produced a low pitched note. #### Quotes:

Dr. Klein: WellIt's a symptom of a type of disturbance in the chemico-electrical activity of the brain.In the case of your daughter in the temporal lobe,up here in the lateral part of the brain.It's rare, but it does cause bizarre hallucinations and usually just before a convulsion.

Chris MacNeil: Convulsion?

Dr. Klein: The shaking of the bed, that's doubtless due to musuclar spasms.

Chris MacNeil: Oh no, that was no spasm.I got on the bed,the whole bed was thumping and rising off the floor and shaking.The whole thing,with me on it!

Dr. Klein: Mrs. MacNeil,the problem with your daughter is not her bed,it's her brain.

Chris MacNeil: So,what causes this?

Dr. Klein: Lesion,Lesion in the temporal lobe.It's a kind of seizure disorder.

Chris MacNeil: Look doc,I really don't understand how her whole personality could change.

Dr. Klein: The temporal lobe is very common.Could last for days, even weeks.It isn't rare to find destructive or even criminal behaviour.

Chris MacNeil: Hey do me a favour will ya'.Tell me something good.
